Featured Project

The Grand Overlook | Blue Ridge, GA

This appropriately named luxury short-term rental arguably has one of the best long-range views in the Blue Ridge Mountains. We furnished, designed, and styled this three-level exquisite cabin property while incorporating the owner’s personal artifacts from travels throughout Wyoming…

What's Trending?

Metal knobs and handles no longer monopolize the drawer handle scene — leather drawer pulls are having a moment! Available in an array of colors and shapes, these pulls lend themselves best to rustic styles but can also add a layer of handcrafted sophistication to modern homes. For those seeking a subtle yet equally impactful upgrade, leather-wrapped handles are a beautifully luxurious option.

Insider Tips

You will see us use blue throughout a lot of our projects, and it's not just because we like it! Blue is one of the most versatile colors in home design, and it's also a hallmark of the South. It has a chameleon-like ability to complement various color palettes and integrates well with a variety of design styles. Whether you opt for soothing pastels or vibrant navy hues, incorporating blue can evoke a sense of timeless elegance and regional charm.

Q&A: Tips for creating a welcoming guest room?

A: With the holidays in full swing, it’s likely you’ll be hosting a family member or two in the near future. Start with a comfortable bed adorned with quality linens and extra blankets to cater to various preferences. Choose a neutral color palette to create a serene atmosphere, and add personal touches like family photos or fresh flowers. We also love leaving a couple of bottles of water and a snack when appropriate.

Consider having at least one bedside lamp in addition to overhead lighting, so guests won’t have to wander around in the dark when it’s time for bed. Ensure there's sufficient storage space, such as a dresser or closet, and a vanity or mirror so they can check their appearance before stepping out. Lastly, if the room has windows, be sure to have window treatments installed for privacy (and the ability to sleep past the sunrise).
